GEO-LOCATION MARKETING

Main targets: understanding where Our consumers are moving, and for providing a channel for location-based marketing and retargeting

Formats: hyper-location ads and/or content, users heatmaps etc..

Gamification: It is possible to make the app user hide some goodies around the city for other app users and/or to find some hidden gems on map near special places

Shake to get discounts/points: Instead of push messages, the messages can require some interaction from the end user. For example, there could be discounts at some specific stores that change daily, and the user needs to shake their phone with the app at the store/partners location to see if they are qualified for a discount or not today.
